To the Descendants of John & Sarah of Watertown:

The big, final consolidated History of your own old Puritan family, three centuries in America, will be ready when this announcement reaches you. There are about 500 pages; numerous beautiful old-fashioned portraits; a full account of you and your children, your parents, and a complete biography of all your Reynolds grandparents back over the ten generations in America.

In preparing this splendid memorial, a corps of experts and editors have been at work over many years; trips have been made to distant places, and a mass of information gathered. Up-to-the-minute records of nearly all the thousands of living Reynoldses of your Clan have been gathered in by a country-wide broad-casting of blanks and forms. Congressmen, judges, lawyers, doctors, farmers, teachers and pioneers—the great and the near-great—have been marshalled into this big book about your family. All preceding genealogies have been revised, expanded and included. It is fully and carefully indexed and an appendix of much valuable unidentified material is added.

Every descendant of John and Sarah should order a copy for himself and one for each of his children. They will be sold at the actual net cost of printing and mailing, but as it may be necessary to increase the price later, you should get your copies at once. The price will be announced as promptly as the costs are definitely known.

You can get your copy of Mrs. Anna C. Rippier, Secretary of the Reynolds Family Association, 413 Third St., Brooklyn, N. Y. Every loyal member of the Association is asked to buy a copy.

The Reynolds Family Association

The thirty-second annual reunion of the Association was held at the Mohican Hotel, New London, Conn., on Saturday, June 30th, 1923. The usual informal reception was held in the reception room of the hotel the evening before. Some members attended for the first time and all enjoyed the family spirit that prevailed.

THE BUSINESS MEETING

At 11 A. M. the annual business meeting was called to order by the President, Frederick G. Reynolds. In the absence of the Chaplain, the President opened the meeting with prayer. Then the members sang "America." A letter of regret was read from the Chaplain. The Secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting and, with the 1922 Annual Report, they were unanimously approved. The Report on Necrology was read and approved as printed farther on. Silent prayer was offered for those deceased.

Under new business the publication of the genealogical records of JOHN REYNOLDS of WATERTOWN in our 1923 Annual was presented for consideration. After some discussion, Mr. Harry W. Reynolds presented the following motion which was accepted: as the Annual was to contain mostly the records named above, the greater part of the expense for printing should be borne by the members of that Line, and when the editors had received sufficient funds to commence this work, then to proceed. Thereupon some of the members subscribed a considerable part of the whole amount required, and others voted to pay the additional dollar as was done in the case of the 1922 Annual. A telegram was received after the meeting from Mr. Marion H. Reynolds, then on vacation in the Yosemite Valley, California, extending greetings and urging solid support of the proposed publication program of the officers.

Officers for 1923-24 were elected as printed upon the opposite page.

Upon motion presented by Mr. Bion F. Reynolds, and passed, the next reunion will be held at the McAlpin Hotel, New York, October 11, 1924. A rising vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Anna C. Ripplier and Mr. Marion H. Reynolds for their untiring efforts in preparing the 1922 Annual of the Association and in accomplishing its successful financing. A similar vote was given Miss Celia M. Reynolds for her excellent poem printed on a later page; also to Mr. and Mrs. Giles L. Reynolds of New London for many beautiful flowers upon the banquet tables.

of the members and great efforts of our Committee upon research work and compiling, we published the largest and most interesting Annual in the history of the Association. We feel it is only the beginning of one of the objects of the R. F. A.

We are pleased to report eighty-four new members this year, among them Mrs. E. M. Reynolds, mother of our Mr. Howard Reynolds, who will celebrate her One Hundredth Birthday next October.

A new interest has sprung up among all of the lines. Fourteen have resumed former memberships; one has resigned, and nineteen of our Family have passed on. Copies of our 1922 Annual were mailed to the libraries and historical societies on our gift list in the name of the members who kindly contributed large amounts to the additional expense of the printing. Our beloved kinsman, Alvah Reynolds of Altona, Ill., celebrated his ninety-third birthday on May 22nd, 1923, at the home of his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Crandell, Galesburg, Ill. Greetings from the Association were extended likewise to William S. Reynolds of Mentor, Ohio, who celebrates his eighty-seventh birthday on June 29th, 1923, with a family gathering. Many of our members have been ill; some are shut-ins, and these also were remembered with a letter of affection and good wishes.

This has been a very busy year; many are anxious for their genealogical "lines." If every member of this Association has not sent in his record, let him do so at once. This will help the industrious Committee in the great work which still lies ahead. Many members had expected to join us today, but illness and duties have prevented their coming. Best wishes and greetings are extended to all.

We appreciate the many responses to all the requests made during the year, making possible the publication of our 1922 Book.

Respectfully submitted.

ANNA C. RIPPIER, Secretary.

The Secretary's Report was accepted and approved.

REUNION OF 1924

The Thirty-Third Annual Reunion and Banquet of the Association will be held at the Hotel McAlpin, New York City, Saturday, October 11, 1924. Detailed announcement will be mailed about five weeks before that date.

REPORT ON GENEALOGY

To the Members of the R. F. A., Greeting:

I have added 475 new names to my list, and if the twenty-three persons to whom I have written enclosing a self-addressed post-paid envelope for reply had responded, I would probably have another hundred names. One dear woman said she "didn't know much about her ancestors, and she had asked some of her relatives and they thought she did not belong to John of Watertown." She, however, gave me the names of her father and grandfather. In reply I gave her the names of her mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, etc. If she answers in full I will probably get not less than twenty-five more names. I have helped to bars for the D. A. R. and secured some names and dates from them.

At the old christenings given names were scarce: I find in my list Mary occurs forty-seven times, John thirty-seven, Sarah thirty-five, William twenty-eight, James twenty-five. The first double name is Rachel Ann in 1785. From 1800 double names are more frequent, and in 1877 I find Warren Thomas Hecox Reynolds—no dearth there!

I loaned my genealogical records to our Secretary to copy for the Association. I have not completed the historical and biographical part of the records.

Faithfully yours,

HARRAH JUDSON REYNOLDS.

The Genealogist's report was accepted. For names and addresses of genealogical specialists on the different Reynolds Lines, see pp. 7-8 of the 1921 Annual. Everyone reading this Annual is vigorously urged to write to the Secretary for a genealogical form to be filled out and filed for eventual publication in our forthcoming books.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

The completion of the History and Descendants of John and Sarah Reynolds of Watertown, Mass., and Wethersfield and Stamford-Greenwich, Conn., is announced. It is one of the finest family histories ever sent to press, and consists of about 500 pages with numerous fine illustrations. Every member of the Association should procure his copy of the Secretary at once. Splendidly illustrated and indexed, with much valuable miscellaneous information in the appendices.

As the final printing cost can be definitely determined only after the Book is ready to mail, the price—which will be the actual net cost of printing and mailing—cannot be fixed before this Annual goes to press. But the big Book will be ready for distribution by the Association about the time this Annual reaches your hands.

Treasurer's Report accepted and approved by the meeting.

William Edward Reynolds

Rear Admiral, Commandant U. S. Coast Guard

Whose portrait is reproduced as the frontispiece of this Annual, was born in Montgomery County, Maryland, January 11, 1860, the third son of Greenbury and Naomi (Fawcett) Reynolds, of the Maryland branch of the Reynolds Family. His father died in 1861, and his mother in 1875.

He lived in Maryland until 1875, when the family removed to Washington, D. C. He attended the public schools in Maryland and in the District of Columbia. In the spring of 1878 he was successful in a competitive examination for a cadetship in the U. S. Revenue-Cutter Service (now the U. S. Coast Guard) and joined the practice cutter S. P. Chase, a bark-rigged sailing vessel, at New Bedford, Massachusetts, in the summer of that year. Two years later he graduated number one in his class and was commissioned a third Lieutenant. He served on a number of vessels on various stations; his last regular sea duty was in command of the Seneca at New York. This vessel had just been constructed as a derelict destroyer, the first vessel ever built by any country for such work. He passed through the several grades, attaining his present rank of Rear Admiral, U. S. Coast Guard, on January 12, 1923.

In the spring of 1881, he joined the Corwin at San Francisco just prior to the sailing of that vessel on the Jeannette Relief Expedition. The Corwin also searched the Arctic Ocean that season for the missing whale-ships Mt. Wollaston and Vigilant. He was one of the party of three sent out from the Corwin to proceed along the coast of Siberia in search of the missing vessels. This trip was made by dog sleds on the north coast of Siberia and on the Arctic ice adjacent thereto; the party was absent a month. Information was obtained regarding the fate of the whaleships, and some rumors concerning the Jeannette. In August of the same season he was one of the boat's crew from the Corwin that made a landing on Wrangell Land, this being the first known landing on that Island; he planted the flag, taking possession in the name of the United States of America. This was August 12, 1881. He cruised in Alaskan and Arctic waters the following two seasons also.

He served several tours of duty at the Coast Guard Academy, the last being for approximately five years as its Superintendent and as the commanding officer of the practice ship. A number of cruises were made to European waters.

During the years 1890-93, while on duty at Washington, he attended Georgetown University Law School night classes, receiving the degrees of LL.B. and LL.M. He was a special student at Cornell University, taking the course in naval architecture and shipbuilding, during the college year 1893-1894. In the summer of 1894, he attended the Naval War College at Newport, Rhode Island. He served as Superintendent of Construction and Repair of the Coast Guard during the period 1909-1912. In 1912 he was assigned to duty in command of the Southern Division, at San Francisco, California. During the three summer seasons of 1912, 1913, and 1914 he had charge of the patrol force in the North Pacific Ocean and Bering Sea, with headquarters at Unalaska.

When war was declared with Spain in 1898, he was in command of a cutter with headquarters at Key West, Florida, and was directed to report to Admiral Sampson, U. S. Navy, for duty. He served actively throughout the war. Upon the entry of the United States into the World War, the Coast Guard (the Revenue-Cutter Service and Life-Saving Service having been combined in 1915 to form the Coast Guard) automatically became a part of the Navy, and he was made Chief of Staff, Twelfth Naval District, with headquarters at San Francisco. Early in the fall of 1919 he was ordered to Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington, D. C., and in October of that year was commissioned as Commandant of the Coast Guard by the President, which office he now holds.

In 1885 he was married (1st) to Minnie G. Collins of Washington, D. C., who died in 1910. In 1912 he married (2d) Nellie Groome Bates, whose maternal grandmother, before her marriage to Francis Bates, in 1837, at Steubenville, Ohio, was Catharine Anne Reynolds.

Miss Fannie Denison Holmes

Who was for eight years our faithful and conscientious Secretary, died in Westerly, R. I., December 8, 1923, after years of illness. She was born in Stonington, Conn., May 19, 1859, daughter of Hazard and Sally (Reynolds) Holmes, whose history is on pages 188-189 of the 1922 Annual. Her portrait is on page 12 of our 1920 Annual. She was devoted to the welfare of the Association and was present at nearly all of its reunions. She was a well-known business woman of Westerly and an active and popular worker in her church and patriotic societies.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The authentic Reynolds crest for framing, printed in appropriate permanent colors by a lithographic artist, is attractive and may be purchased from the Secretary for $3.50. It is about 10" x 12" square.

The watch fobs are gold plated on bronze, which will retain an old Roman gold color. Upon it the family crest is engraved by an expert; complete with a heavy grosgrain ribbon for $4.

Gold-plated pins, bearing the family crest as above printed, $1.50.

Note-paper and other stationery, twenty-four sheets of paper and envelopes, with the above crest engraved upon each sheet, $1.00 and $1.25 a box; engraved correspondence cards, excellent quality, $1.00 a box.

Beginning with 1899, the Association has published each year an annual book such as this. While a few early numbers are now out of print, the Secretary can furnish nearly a complete file of them over these twenty-five years to members who desire sets. Previous to this year they have been called Reports.

The following Annuals can now be purchased of the Secretary: 1904, 1905, 1906, 1909-1923 inclusive. The Report of 1914 is worth 75c; 1915, 1916, and 1921 are $1 each; 1922 is $2.50 a copy; and 1923 $2 to Association Members. This also covers membership in the Association for the year of the Annual. Annuals of other years than these can be had for 50c each. Some description of their contents is printed in the section following the after-dinner speeches.

The Secretary should be notified promptly of births, marriages, deaths and changes of address.

The Secretary is especially anxious to receive family records from all who are descended from the early Pennsylvania Reynoldses. If you are of this strain please write in, giving complete details of your own and your parents' and grandparents' genealogical history. Genealogical charts and forms for this purpose will be mailed by the Secretary upon request.

MRS. CLARA REYNOLDS KING:

Always called "Cassie," ninth generation, Robert of Boston, daughter of Charles B. and Susan F. (Coggins) Reynolds of North Lubec, Me. She was born there February 1, 1848; died in Brookline, Mass., July 18, 1922; buried in Lamoine, Maine, where she spent her married life. She married there May, 1865, William R. King, son of Nathan and Flora (Des Isles) King; her husband died at Lamoine August 11, 1914. She was the ideal wife and mother—hospitable, genial, cheerful—she had a smile of welcome for everyone. Her sense of humor was unusual, and she had a fund of bright stories and quaint sayings that made it a delight to be in her company. Hers was the typical New England home; she was the old-fashioned housekeeper. Her sweetness of character was the fragrance of an old-fashioned garden. Her training had been in a stern and rugged school. She was one of the oldest of a large family, which, though thrifty, was poor, and much of the burden of the household must have fallen upon her. In her youth the very food that the family ate was the result of its own toil on the farm and on the sea, and the clothes that it wore came from its own flock, and were the product of its own industry and skill. In all this labor she had her share, and the experience developed in her that strong character that was so marked a trait. Her grandparents were Jotham⁷ Gay and Susan (Guptill) Reynolds of Lubec, grandson of the noted Captain Nathaniel⁶ of our 1921 Annual. Of her four children, Thomas J., Emma L., Marcia (Mrs. John L. Chamberlain of Brookline, Mass.), and Dr. Clarence W. King of Boston, only the latter two survive.

ALFRED WILBERT STARRATT:

Ninth generation, Robert of Boston, son of Alfred L. and Adelaide (Reynolds) Starratt of St. John, N. B., was born there August 28, 1876; died at South Sudbury, Mass., June 2, 1923. He had been married in Boston, but was divorced; no children. His father, Alfred L., and three sisters survive: Annie Louise (Mrs. Charles A. Lane of Winchester, Mass.); Margaret B., of Winchester, Mass.; Edith B. (Mrs. H. Wordman of Wakefield, Mass.).

CLARENCE ELBERT DE PUY:

Son of James & Helen Anna J. (Reynolds) De Puy, and of the eighth generation Robert of Boston (through Grindall; Constant; Grindall; Benjamin; Nathl.; Robert) died at Ephraim, Wisc., Aug. 28, 1923. Born March 11, 1863, Spring Arbor, Mich.; m. Miss Marion Drummond, Sept. 2, 1896, who survived him. Two sons: Clarence and James also survive. He attended Cornell and University of Michigan. For some years he had been Professor of Mechanical Engineering, Lewis Institute, Chicago. A complete biography will be printed in the forthcoming Robert of Boston Genealogy. Mrs. De Puy resides at 411 North Elmwood Ave., Oak Park, Ill.

ISAAC NEWTON REYNOLDS:

Whose biography and portrait were published on page 265 of our 1922 Reynolds Family Annual, died at his home in Montello, Mass., on November 3, 1923, and was buried November 6th in the Brockton Union Cemetery.

LOWELL MASON REYNOLDS:

Ninth generation, Robert of Boston, was born Brockton, Mass., February 4, 1849, son of Charles T. and Sarah S. (Knowles) Reynolds of Brockton married Miss Clara B. Cobb, December 5, 1877; and died in Brockton, April 20, 1920. He followed the old family trade of shoe manufacturing from 1874 to 1904, when he was burned out. He worked in the shoe business with his father until he was 20, making his first shoes all through when but seven years old. Congregational, Mason, Republican, he was always sincere and strong in his beliefs. He was keenly interested in his family's history and his shoes once bore the trade-mark, "Reynolds, 1632 to date." He had no children but, besides his wife, leaves brothers: Jay B., of Athol, Mass.; Bion F., of Brockton; Luke of Brockton; and sisters: Sarah A. (Mrs. Aaron S. Harlow), Susan (Mrs. Justin Hewett), Elzira (Mrs. W. L. Grout). He was an interested member and historian of this Association.

MISS MARY E. REYNOLDS:

Ninth generation, Robert of Boston, daughter of John and Jane H

(Martin) Reynolds, was born Marblehead, Mass., 1841; never married; died there March 14, 1923, in her 83rd year. She lived at the corner of Washington and Pleasant Streets, Marblehead, and was long a member of this Association. John and Anna (Blanch) Reynolds, fourth generation, founded the Reynolds line in Marblehead about 1725.

MRS. JOSHUA REYNOLDS:

Née Mary Isabel Spicer, whose husband is of the eighth generation, Robert of Boston, was born January 28, 1856, Troy, N. The Message of the Years

Down from the ancient ages,
From the great, experienced past,
Come to us the swift years bringing Messages of meaning vast.

Some pass our comprehending
Though we study them with care,
Some fall unheard, unheeded,
Through our folly's murky air.

But one we cannot parry;
Straight to our souls it bears
The thought of God's o'er-ruling
And the knowledge that He cares.

This, this the vital message
That the wise years fling abroad,
"Safety rests for men and nations
In obedience to God.

"Fallen empires, exiled peoples,
Individual's tarnished name,—
We, the Years, in disobedience
See the reason of their shame.

"You from whose Christian standpoint
All these things are plain to view
Rise up to meet the challenge
Which that vision flings to you.

"Yours is the glorious mission
In a high or humble place
To make your lives the channel's
Of the Lord's abounding grace.

"He learned, himself, obedience
By the sufferings He bore,
Then ascending to the heavens
Reigns in glory evermore.

"Point to Him the clashing nations,
Lift to Him the lawless world,
Till the red flag of rebellion
In obedience shall be furled.

"Then shall our voices, singing
The songs of souls' release,
Drift down the brightened future
In strains of love and peace."

Celia Mary Reynolds.

The After-Dinner Addresses

Mr. Giles L. Reynolds, Toastmaster

Ladies and Gentlemen, Members and Friends of the Reynolds Family Association:

It is a very great pleasure to meet with you this thirty-second anniversary of the Association. You have come to New London, very close to Lyme, its birthplace, and I hope this will be a happy day for everyone present. This is the seventh[†] Association Reunion held in New London, which is conclusive evidence that it is a good place in which to meet. I hope you will come again. I am glad to see so many familiar faces before me and to witness the affectionate greetings of friends who have come from the East and the West, who are growing young in the gladness of this Reunion.

As we meet here in good fellowship today, my mind reverts to that first meeting held in Lyme, August 23, 1892, when twenty-seven of the descendants of John Reynolds of Weymouth-Stonington (whose history was printed fully in our last Annual) met at the home of Mrs. Mary Reynolds Fosdick. Six of the twenty-seven[‡] who were present at the first meeting are with us today—Mrs. Anna May Reynolds Hayden; Miss Gertrude P. Reynolds, Miss Elsie B. Reynolds; Mr. Harry W. Reynolds; Mr. Giles L. Reynolds; Mrs. Giles L. Reynolds.

There are some friends present who meet with us for the first time. I hope they will find so much enjoyment in attending that they will want to attend the next annual Reunion as well.

We are to have several after-dinner speeches and at the close of these exercises there will be an opportunity to go to Ocean Beach and elsewhere, as you may desire. New London has many attractions and, of course, you will want to see all you can before leaving the city.

The first speaker this afternoon is Mr. Henry Suydam Reynolds of New York, who wrote the excellent historical account of JAMES REYNOLDS OF NORTH KINGSTOWN in our 1922 Annual. His subject today is, I believe, "An Inland Voyage Among the Reynoldses." I take great pleasure in presenting Mr. Reynolds.

MR. HENRY SUYDAM REYNOLDS: A Reynolds Family gathering is to me distinctly a novelty. Some years ago when I started this work of research in family history I had no Reynolds relatives so far as I knew. Now my Reynolds relatives number in the hundreds, and I have lost all count of my Reynolds kinsmen.

I am glad that I have one of the few old New England names which have not been usurped by the Jewish and other foreign elements of our population who seek to conceal their origin. My name might have been Harris. That is the name of a good old New England family to whom I am closely related. I think some of them came from around New London. However, if your name is Harris today most people think you are Jewish before they will believe you are a Christian. Why, my Harris relatives have considerable difficulty reserving rooms by telegraph at the various summer resort hotels which do not cater to Jewish people. I do not know just why the name of Reynolds has escaped in this way to date. Surely it is just as simple and adaptable as Harris, or Lewis, or Rogers (other family names of mine), which have been largely appropriated by these people in New York City. All we can hope is that it will remain a name unquestionably Anglo-Saxon as it is today.

[†]Previous Reunions in New London were: Aug. 23, 1900; Aug. 21, 1902; Aug. 17, 1905; Aug. 20, 1908; Aug. 15, 1912; June 30, 1915.

This is a family gathering, and I told Mrs. Ripplier that if I were to speak, that all I would pretend to do would be to chat informally about a few salient things which had impressed me while engaged in this work of family research.

The last Reynolds Family Association Annual contains a little article which I wrote about the line of James Reynolds of North Kingstown. When I started work on this article I found I had a good many things to learn. Never having been a traveling salesman or a newspaper reporter I was not very well equipped to approach the people I wanted to interview. Born and brought up in the city, I got on fairly well with city people, but I was not very successful when I tried to talk to the country relatives. There always seemed to be a reserve which I could not penetrate. However, I have reason to believe that I must have improved in this respect because a few weeks ago when I was on one of my investigating tours I had a conversation with one of these country relatives in the most rural of rural districts, and after talking with him some time he said:

"I suppose you come from somewhere around these parts?"

I replied, "No, I come from New York City."

"Well," he said, "is that so? I never would have thought it. It certainly seemed to me that you were corn-fed!"

Therefore, I feel that I must have progressed to win this recognition.

When I started in with this work I never had any idea of the length of time it would take to prepare even such a short article as I have written. It is extraordinary the amount of time spent in various ways without result. A year or so ago I had been making a research trip up New York State and was just ready to step into the automobile and start home, glad that I had accomplished as much as I had, when I learned of two old men who lived far back in the Adirondack mountains and who were said to know more than any living person about the Reynolds family in that part of the country. There was nothing to do but head the automobile north instead of south. Although we were told we ought to reach our destination about two or three in the afternoon, it was nearly six in the evening when, after a wild mountainous ride, we pulled up at the house which we were seeking. After making ourselves known, I asked, "Is there an old gentleman named James Reynolds living here?"

"Nope, he's dead."

"Perhaps you could tell me where his brother, Mr. John Reynolds, could be found?"

"Nope, he's dead, too. Died last month."

It was late that night before we got back to Glen Falls, where on this account, with nothing gained, we were a whole day longer than had been expected.

It is sometimes hard to find town clerks who have the records. I remember the first time I was at Wickford and wanted to go out to the office of Mr. George Money, the town clerk of Exeter. When I found that he had no telephone, we started out in the car to go and see him. After a long ride on narrow, sandy roads, through woods, and over bridges which I was afraid would not hold the car, and after getting lost only twice, we reached Mr. Money's farm. There was no one in sight but the chickens. When I finally routed out someone, I found that Mr. Money had gone to Providence for the day. There was nothing to do but leave a note asking that he would let me know when I could see him. When I received his answer he made an appointment for the second day following. This meant in all a stay of two more days than I had expected in order to go over the Exeter records.

Speaking of records, most of us here know of the unfortunate fire in 1870 which so seriously injured the North Kingstown records, with the result that some are irrevocably lost and others can only be deciphered with the greatest difficulty. As a matter of fact, records and relics are being lost every day in many different ways. Often they are lost in some manner wholly unexpected, as the heart of Louis XIV. The French revolutionist who carried away the heart of Louis XIV at the looting of the church of Saint-Denis where the French kings were buried, sold it to an English nobleman. The Englishman took it to his English home, where on special occasions it was brought out and shown to his guests. One evening at the close of dinner it was thus passed around the table, and in due course handed to the Dean of Westminster. The Dean was an absent-minded old gentleman, and at the time talking to his neighbor. Therefore when the heart, which in the course of years had shrunk to about the size of a hazel-nut, was handed to him, without more ado he popped it in his mouth and swallowed it. Since the heart was undoubtedly quite indigestible, and the Dean died shortly afterwards, it would seem that the heart of the French king is now reposing in the body of the Dean in Westminster Abbey.

But records are lost even when we think we have taken the greatest of care. I had a great-great-grandfather who was Quarter-master General under Washington at the beginning of the Revolution in New York City after the Battle of Long Island. He left two orderly books.

The family some years ago loaned the most interesting one of the two to an author who was writing a history of the City of New York. They thought that with such a person this priceless relic would certainly be safe. Before the book was returned, the author died. The book was never found among his effects, and of course it was lost forever.

Relics kept at home are always lost sooner or later, because there always comes in some generation someone who says:

"I'm not going to bother dusting these old things any longer. They are no use and they are only filling up space, and making extra work." And out they go—lost forever!

I speak of this loss of relics and records because I want to ask you who are here, that if you have at home any such relics or records, and that if you know any other people who have any such relics or records, please don't keep them in your home from sentiment, please don't hide them in a safe-deposit where no one can have access to them but yourself, but please turn them over to some Genealogical or Historical Society where they will be preserved for all time in a fireproof building, and where everyone now and hereafter may be able to inspect them. That is where they will do the most good. Unless this is done I can assure you all these records and relics are ultimately doomed.

We are all here because we realize that there is something more in genealogy and family history than our personal interest in a collection of facts and dates of birth, death, and marriage. Study of family history means more than being able to say that our ancestors came over to this country in the sixteen-hundreds. I say this because of the widespread attitude of criticism by the world at large towards this work, ranging from amused tolerance to downright antagonism. When we meet this criticism it should not go unchallenged. Only the other day a new neighbor calling at my home saw the last Reynolds Family Association Report lying on my table with "1632-1922" on the cover, and the effect on him was such that he remarked, "There you are, that is the trouble with the New Englanders—all they can think of is the fact that their ancestors came over in 1632! They don't realize what a small part that plays in everyday life. All these people who are using crests and coats of arms to which they have no right, and trying to figure out family trees showing they are descended from Charlemagne or Julius Caesar, make me sick!"

This man does not understand what the study of my family history really means to me. Personally, I don't give a tinker's damn—and if that be profanity, make the most of it!—whether my great-great-grandfather was related to royalty or whether he was a serf tied to the soil. I don't care whether he came over in the "Mayflower," or whether he came over in the steerage. But he was my grandfather, and as my grandfather I care a whole lot to know where he lived and what he did, whatever it may have been. If by any chance these ancestors really did something worth while and better than their descendants can do it, it isn't going to hurt me or anyone else to think about it. The power of such thought should prove a stimulus to try and be worthy of them.

These critics seem to forget that interest, pride and loyalty, as to your family, is the basis of your interest, pride, and loyalty to that collection of families which go to make up our native country. It is the basis of our loyalty to the United States of America.

Then again the actual student of family history finds himself learning, in spite of himself, detail upon detail of his country's history, which he would have never known, or passed over with but scant notice were it not for the intimate relationship that family history bears to national history. Events take on a new meaning, places a new interest, when you know that some grandfather or grandmother participated in stirring events of the past in some particular place.

When at school I learned that the Battle of Saratoga was one of the fifteen decisive battles of the world, but the whole affair took on a new meaning and was brought closer to me when I discovered that it was my own great² grandmother who was captured by Burgoyne's Indians, together with Jennie McCrea; and further that the British General, Simon Fraser, who was killed at Saratoga, was this grandmother's first cousin.

King Philip's War became more than a name to me when I found out that the eldest son of James' Reynolds of North Kingstown was killed by the Indians the night that war broke out. When I motor over the Mohawk Trail today, and go through Greenfield and Deerfield, all that district is more interesting to me since I have learned that I had three direct ancestors who fought in the Turner's Falls Indian fight near by.

When we consider all these things no one can gainsay that interest in genealogy and the study of one's family history means more than the bare fact that his ancestor came over in 1632, or any other time; but rather that it tends to make life fuller and more interesting, and hence one of the things that makes it happier.

After the address of Mr. Henry Suydam Reynolds, Mr. Bion F. Reynolds of Brockton, Mass., at the request of the Toastmaster, presented greetings to the Association from the Robert of Boston Line. Then Mr. Joseph G. Reynolds of Wickford, R. I., spoke on behalf of the James of North Kingstown Line. The Secretary read letters to the Association from Charles L. Reynolds of Warren, Arkansas, representing the Washington County, Md., Line; and from others. Miss Smith of New London entertained at the piano during the banquet hour.

The President presented the new members and other members who attended a Reunion for the first time. All were welcomed into the fellowship of the Association. The picture of the home of the late Mrs. Mary Reynolds Fosdick, where the Association was organized in 1892, was shown to the meeting.

The day for the meeting and dinner was a perfect one, both as to weather and social time. It was a special pleasure to the executive officers to meet those who were founders of the Association over thirty years ago, all of the Weymouth Line, and to be so near the place of the Association's birth. As New London affords so many places of unusual historical interest, the program of the Association was somewhat shortened in order to give visiting members ample opportunity to see them.

The after-dinner exercises were closed by humorous selections by Mr. A. C. Rippier. Much satisfaction was expressed with New London as a meeting place, and it is hoped we may meet there again in the future.

The interesting sketch prepared by Mr. Samuel G. Reynolds, a former United States Indian Agent of Billings, Mont., giving the account of his labor among the Crow Indians, was read by the Secretary.

As this Annual was given to the publication of the records of the Watertown Line, the committee deferred the publishing of the above until the 1924 Annual.

The officers and members of the Association extend their appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Giles L. Reynolds and to Mrs. Marion G. Dean of New London and to all of the members of the Reception Committee for their efforts in making the thirty-second annual reunion long memorable to those attending.

Research Work and Publication Policy

Since our 1922 Annual came off the press last Christmas, Mrs. Anna C. Rippier and Mr. Marion H. Reynolds have been industriously engaged in gathering and compiling the records of the John of Watertown Line, published in this issue.

This year the title of our publication has been changed from "Report" to ANNUAL BOOK—a change following the suggestion of several members and genealogists that the size, appearance and dignity under our new publication policy merited a designation more suggestive of its growing importance and usefulness. The Annuals of 1921, 1922 and 1923 indicate an earnest effort to dignify and improve this yearly publication.

We are glad to recommend the two following independently published Reynolds booklets which have recently been sent the Editor of the Historical Collections:

Ancestors and Descendants of Hosea and Elizabeth (Fuller) Reynolds:

By Frank I. Bennett, 5807 Blackstone Avenue, Chicago, Ill., 1921. Concerns Hosea¹ Reynolds (Andrew²; 2 Reubens; Joseph³; Jonathan⁴) of the John of Watertown Line. Family of Chatham, Canaan, Kortright and Binghamton, N. Y. Some taken from the Cleveland Genealogy, published 1899. The Reynolds material is being reprinted in this 1923 Annual; except much excellent data on the maternal lines. Twenty pages.

Ancestry and Descendants of Isaac and Anna (Losee) Bennett, 1639-1921:

Compiled by Frank I. Bennett, Chicago, Ill. Very little Reynolds material.

Genealogy of Reynolds-Harper Family:

Beginning with Francis Reynolds, Sr., b. 1770. Published by Elon G. Reynolds, Kansas City, Mo., 1919. This may be of the James of Kingstown Line.

The Reynolds School News:

First issue published at the John Post Reynolds School, Bristol, R. I., June, 1923. Judge Reynolds, whose picture and obituary notice appears in the 1915 Annual, was for many years our Vice-President.

Genealogical Sketches of Reynolds, Fewells, Walls, etc.:

By John Fewell Reynolds, Wentworth, N. C., 1923; 56 pages. Entirely new material on a notable Southern Line. The earliest known member of this line is George Reynolds, who married Susanna Lansford of Pittsylvania Co., Va., June 12, 1799, who lived in Henry County, Virginia.

Lineage of Anna Horton Cortright, 1586-1921:

By Frank I. Bennett, Chicago, Ill.

Much of the work of earlier REYNOLDS FAMILY ASSOCIATION ANNUALS was poorly prepared, owing to our lack of experience and information, but we now have a satisfactory organization for gathering and preparing our genealogies. Herewith we summarize what the Association has accomplished since 1892 toward its aim, to publish a complete history of all of the Reynolds Family in America:

- 1907 Annual. The first four generations of the Robert and Mary Reynolds (1630) of Boston Line. Sketchy, not altogether accurate. Also the synopsis of some of the earlier generations of the Weymouth-Stonington Line, all of which was superseded by the comprehensive publication in our 1922 Annual. Copies of the 1907 Annual are exhausted. 53 pages.
- 1908 Annual. Contained a brief synopsis of the John of Watertown Line. This is entirely superseded by the comprehensive history published in our 1923 Annual. Copies of 1908 Annual are exhausted. 40 pages.
- 1914 Annual. Henry of Chichester, Pa., Genealogy. A very good beginning on the publication of a large line. Also the Robert Reynolds of Boonesborough, Md., Line. Plenty of copies left at 50c. 40 pages.
- 1915 Annual. The only considerable account of Robert and Mary Reynolds of Boston published. Robert's curious will; fifth generation of his descendants, tying on the 1907 Annual above described. Also a list of books on Reynolds of all Lines. Plenty of copies at $1 each. 60 pages.
- 1916 Annual. Revolutionary Soldiers Number, containing official records of 456 Reynolds who served in the American Revolution. This is an excellent handlook for those who wish to join the D. A. R. or S. A. R., Colonial Dames, etc. Also some excellent notes on Henry of Chichester by Mr. Edward B. Raub; and the story of Henry's razor. Further notes and corrections on the Robert of Boston Genealogy as published in 1915. 1.6 pages. Copies $1 each.
- 1917 Annual. Some incomplete lists of Civil War Soldiers and Soldiers in the Great War of 1914-1918. Copies at 50c each. 56 pages.
- 1920 Annual. Genealogy of John Reynolds of Kent Co., Delaware. 78 pages. Copies at 50c each.
- 1921 Annual. The Complete Census of 1790 of all Reynolds in the United States. Miscellaneous Early Reynolds; Captain Nathaniel Reynolds (Robert of Boston Line) of Machias and Lubec, Maine, in the Revolution, a tragic but romantic story. 96 pages. $1 each.
- 1922 Annual. An excellent account of James of North Kingstown; maps and pictures; one line of descent. The complete Genealogy of John Reynolds of Weymouth-Stonington. The complete Genealogy of the Washington County, Md., Line. Captives of the Wyandottes, concerning that Line. The Three Nathaniels of Boston (Robert of Boston Line) with maps and excellent notes. Family of Rev. Bowen Reynolds of North Carolina, etc. Queries. Plenty of copies, $2.50 each. 282 pages, illustrated.
- 1923 Annual. The complete consolidated genealogy of the John and Sarah Reynolds of Watertown-Wethersfield-Stamford-Greenwich Line. Illustrated. About 500 pages, covering many thousands of descendants and members of allied families. Every member should send for his copy at once.

Our concentration on the Watertown Genealogy this year has made it needful to postpone until the 1924 Annual the usual publication of the old English Records of births, deaths and marriages across the Atlantic. In 1924 we shall publish additions, changes and corrections on the lines written up in the 1922 Annual; probably an index of all preceding Annuals; a series of olden-time silhouettes of members of the family and probably some very old paintings and daguerreotypes; probably the descendants of Elisha⁸ Reynolds, Jr., (1763-1840) who about 1800 removed from Hoosick or Petersburg, N. Y., to Isle la Motte in Lake Champlain; probably a fully developed genealogy of the descendants of William W. and Mary (Lillibridge) Reynolds of Petersburg, N. Y.; and other genealogical material. There will be some changes from and improvement in this program. Those who have old family portraits or Reynolds silhouettes of the kind that were fashionable about 1800 are urged to lend them to our Secretary for reproduction in the 1924 Annual.

Financing these jobs has been a serious problem for our already overworked Secretary and her assistant, the Editor, but the entire membership has responded immediately whenever sufficient effort has been made to put before it the requirements and importance of publication. The Treasurer's Report printed herein is a substantial evidence of the loyalty and interest of our membership. The only cost borne by the members is the actual expense of printing and distributing our Annuals. The services of all workers from top to bottom, and they have been continuous and very considerable, have been given to the Association, even accompanied by large donations for printing expenses. The usual fees of professional genealogists would have made prohibitive such work as is printed in this and in the 1922 Annual.

The new publication policy and the awakened vitality of our Association has generated a new interest in Reynolds genealogy. Henry Suydam Reynolds is developing the Kingstown Family. Dr. Sheridan E. Gardiner expects to publish his Kingstown Line soon. Adam E. Reynolds of Schenectady has nearly finished the Petersburg and Hoosic, N. Y., groups of the Kingstown Line. Marion H. Reynolds has gathered an almost complete account of that wing of the Kingstown Family founded about 1800 at Isle la Motte, Lake Champlain, etc.

The Robert Reynolds of Boston Genealogy (1630-1923) has been ready for the printer for a year, but it has been temporarily laid aside while its compiler, Marion H. Reynolds has been editing the Watertown History with Mrs. Ripper. When this 1923 Annual is off the press, the Robert Genealogy will be at once sent to the printer and rushed to completion. Its cost will be heavy, as it is to be printed independently as a large book, but under the auspices and patronage of the Association. An active campaign for funds will have to be made during the coming winter, but enough money has already been turned in to assure that it can ultimately be financed.

The Editor of the Historical Collections has on his desk a large collection of "hard nuts to crack"—various Reynolds groups that cannot yet be surely fitted into any of the larger known lines. All of these unidentified units are destined for publication as soon as they are sufficiently developed. Genealogists and others having some knowledge of these odd groups are urged to write to Mr. Marion H. Reynolds, care of The Harvard Club, 27 West 44th Street, New York City, as soon as possible.

1. Geoffrey Reynolds, immigrant from England to Richmond Co., Va., about 1666-67. Ancestor of The Hon. Joshua Saxton Reynolds of Albuquerque, N. Mexico.

Ephraim had sons Zechariah and Silas both in the Battle of Bennington the latter ran eight miles in his stocking-feet to battle—his womenfolk must have been better knitters than ours of the late Great War—and later helped capture Burgoyne. Silas was b. Dorset, Vt., 1747. Prof. Geo. F. Reynolds, University of Colorado, Boulder, Colo., is my correspondent.
4. Daniel Reynolds, Vermont, in the Revolution; m. Ruth ---. Had Jeremiah, b. January 29, 1786; d. Colton, N. Y.; carpenter; m. Mary (Polly) Mooney, dau. Stephen Mooney, was. b. Alton, N. H., 1773. Bolton, P. Q., Canada. My correspondent is Dr. Wilbur A. Reynolds, 236 Newbury St., Boston.

Fowler, 4559 Lake Park Avenue, Chicago, Ill.
6. John Reynolds who m. Naomi Latimer of Wethersfield, Conn., around 1660. This family was investigated years ago by the late Dr. Street and will be published shortly in our Annual.

Wife Rebecca, son Jacob. From Mrs. D. E. Parsons, Reidlands, Avon Lake, Ohio. Probably of John of Watertown Line.
9. Roswell Shurtleff Reynolds and Hiezekiah Reynolds of Rennselaer Co., N. Y. Besides Roswell, Hiezekiah had: Rev. Roger Reynolds, Dr. Porter Lafayette Reynolds, Dr. Horace Reynolds, Castleton, N. Y.; Joshua Reynolds, farmer. Who knows of them?

10. Lewis B. Reynolds, b. Carmel, Putnam Co., N. Y., Aug. 19, 1816, was son of Benjamin. Who can trace back further?
11. James Reynolds of Pawling, Dutchess Co., had John Wesley Reynolds, who m. Rebecca Niles. They had Charles Wesley Reynolds, b. Dec. 2, 1819, at Pawling. Probably of Watertown Line, but who can give more?

For more interesting unplaced and miscellaneous material, see the back pages of the five-hundred-page Watertown Genealogy which accompanies this Annual.

The Association now owns a complete copy of the official Civil War records—giving companies and regiments; dates of enlistment, promotion and discharge; wounds, etc.—of all New York State soldiers of the name of Reynolds. These records will be published in some future Annual.

We are very anxious to have copied all references to the name Reynolds on the old town records of Westerly, Wickford, Exeter, Richmond, Charlestown, Hopkinton, and other places in Rhode Island, but this cannot be done until some member of the Kingstown Line will come forward with funds to employ copyists, or until members of the family will volunteer to do this work themselves in nearby towns. Unless this is done soon, it is quite likely that these records may be forever lost by fire or otherwise, as in the case of the Kingstown records. Much volunteer searching of town records, cemeteries, land transfers, and probate records in the various towns of Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Columbia, Rensselaer, Washington and Clinton Counties, N. Y., is badly needed. In the absence of available Association funds to send copyists there, or to employ them locally, the Editor can only urge members of the family who live near any such towns to do the work for the Association so that such results may be published. Reliable and complete genealogies can be written only when ample facts and dates are in hand, and those materials come only from such town and county records.

SEVERAL REPORTS FROM U. S. BUREAU OF PENSIONS

1. ELIPHALET REYNOLDS:

Revolutionary Pension Claim S. 37,326. He was born about 1759, enlisted at Lyme, Conn., February, 1777; served three years as Private in Captain Holmes' Co., Col. Huntington's and Col. Starr's Regiment of Conn. Troops. Allowed pension on his application executed Sept. 19, 1826, while a resident of Addison, Washington Co., Me., then aged 67 years. In 1826 he referred to his wife, Jemima, then aged 68 years (b. about 1758); son Charles, aged forty (b. about 1786); grandson James, aged nine. There is no further family data on file.

For his official war and battle record, see Nos. 91-95 on p. 66 of the 1916 Reynolds Family Annual. In the U. S. Census of 1790 (p. 67 of the 1921 Annual, he is No. 3) he was in the district of Machias, Me. He was probably brother to David whose record is next, and possibly related to Samuel who lived in that general district who is No. 388 on p. 101 of the 1916 Annual.

2. DAVID REYNOLDS:

Revolutionary War pension claim W. 24,738; he enlisted at Lyme, Conn., in April, 1777; served three years at private in Captain Ely's Co., Col. Starr's and Sherman's Regiment. Afterward served as waiter to Lieut. Col. Sills. Was taken prisoner at Tarrytown, N. Y., fall of 1782, next spring (1783) was put on board a British ship, but made his escape at Passamaquoddy (near Lubec, Wash. Co., Me.) where the ship was in harbor. Allowed pension on his application dated June 28, 1826, while resident of Dennysville, Washington Co., Me., then aged 64 years (b. 1762). He d. March 31, 1832, Dennysville, Me. This David m. in Columbia, Wash. Co., Me., Oct. 15, 1787, Rebecca Cox, who was allowed pension on her application executed Oct. 25, 1838, while living in Dennysville, Me., aged 61. She d. Marion, Wash. Co., Me., March 20, 1844. David and Rebecca (Cox) Reynolds had:

3. Rebeah, b. June 19, 1789; d. before 1844.
4. David, b. Aug. 15, 1792.
5. Isabella, b. Jan. 27, 1795; m. - - - Page.
6. Haskell, b. Dec. 4, 1797.
7. Isaac, b. July 18, 1800.
8. Hannah, b. July 26, 1802; d. before 1844.
9. Eliphalet, b. June 4, 1804.
10. Thursa (Thirza?), b. Jan. 17, 1807; m. - - - Morang or Moressy.
11. Eliza (Elizabeth?), b. Nov. 22, 1810; m. - - - Huckings.

In 1844 all ch. except Rebeah and Hannah were alive.

His official military and battle record printed as No. 69, p. 62, 1916 Reynolds Family Annual. In the 1790 Census was of Machias, Me., with wife and small daughter; see p. 67 (No. 4) of the 1921 Annual. He and the preceding soldier Eliphalet were perhaps brothers. It may have been the escaped prisoner David who induced Eliphalet to migrate from Lyme, Conn., up to Washington Co., Me.

3. SHUBAEL REYNOLDS:

Revolutionary War Pension Claim No. S 7374. While a resident of Amenia Precinct, Dutchess Co., N. Y., enlisted spring of 1775, served 15 days at Crown Point. He then immediately enlisted and served as private five months in Captain James Talmadge's Co., under Humphrey or Col. DuBois. He enlisted in 1780 and served as private three months in Captain Colbe Chamberlain's Co., Col. Lewis DuBois's Fifth N. Y. Regiment, and was in a battle near Ft. Plain. In 1781 enlisted and served two months and twenty days in Captain Smith Sutherland's N. Y. Company. He was allowed pension on his application executed Sept. 5, 1832, while a resident of Pendleton, Niagara Co., N. Y., aged 80 years (b. about 1752). In 1835 he was a resident of Green Creek Township, Sandusky, Ohio, and referred to his children, then residents of Ohio; their names and the name of his wife are not stated. No Shubael (Shubal) Reynolds appears on the pension records for the War of 1812. For his further record, see page 102 (No. 395) of the 1916 Reynolds Family Annual. Private, Capt. Waters' Co., Col. Roswell Hopkins' Sixth (Dutchess Co.) Regiment.
