PRESIDENT'S CORNER

by Larry "Joe" Reynolds

Welcome back to the RFA Dispatch! It's been awhile and I want to apologize for the lack of communications from the officers of the RFA.

I recently sent out an email to all Members, asking for volunteers and suggestions and have had a few volunteers, I should have contacted each of you who responded by now. For those of you who have not volunteered, I would like for you to think about what you could do in order to make this a better Association.

I am going to start working on Updating and making our Lines one of my top priorities, if you would be interested in service as a Line Coordinator, or Assistant Line Coordinator, please let me know. You may have an idea of a position that you can serve in that I haven't thought of, if so then let's talk about it.

For now, the Reynolds Family Mailing List (Reynolds-L@reynoldsfamily.org) and the RFA Dispatch are our two best ways of communicating with each other. Every member is subscribed to the Reynolds Family Mailing List, and to send an email to the entire list, simply send it to the email address above. Please remember, when replying to the list, please just reply to the member and not the list, if it does not concern everyone.

I have several members who have volunteered to help with the RFA Dispatch, and I want to thank each of them. Any Newsletter is only as good as the material in it, I would like to therefore ask each member to think of items that could be included, and send them to me. One thing I would like to see started is an article each month honoring our ancestors who have served this country in the Civil War, on either side, I'm doing an article about 1st Lt. David Richard Reynolds who served the Confederate Army.

Perhaps after we run out of ancestors to honor in our Civil War section we can honor those who served in the Revolutionary War, the World Wars, or others fought by our Reynolds Heroes.

I also think that any Biograph of an ancestor would make a good addition, a short family story, any interesting photographs or articles that you come across.

You may also think about placing a Query on our site, and check back regularly to see if there are any new Queries that you may be able to answer.

WELCOME NEW AND RETURNING MEMBERS!

The Reynolds / Maryland Connection

The best place to start is John Reynolds.

This is specifically John Reynolds Senior – John(5) -- born in 1714, died 1784. He is our 5-greats grandfather. (The numbers I attach to names are the number of greats.) John(5) is one of our first established antecedents to appear in public records in America. He would qualify us to join the DAR or SAR.

Notes on Antecedents: John(5) was one of eleven children of Francis Joseph Reynolds – FJR(6) – born 1652, died 1747. FJR(6) was married to Rebecca Crook (Crooks, Cook, Crock). FJR(6) was one of eleven children of William Tillman Reynolds – WilliamT(7) – born 1606, died 1668. WilliamT(7) was married to Margaret Exton. WilliamT(7) was one of eight children of... well, things are harder to prove the further back you go. One family tree traces us back a full 25 generations, including Richard Reynell (1150-1194), the High Sheriff of Devon in the time of Richard I, King John and Robin Hood!

Notes on Descendants: John(5) married Elizabeth McKee and had nine children, including Joseph – Joseph(4) -- born 1747, died 1808. Joseph(4) married Sarah Smith and had eleven kids, including Isaac – Isaac(3) – born 1778, died 1848. Isaac(3) went to Baltimore about 1800, married Mary Margaret Hoffman and had eight children, including Susan Reynolds – Susan(2) – born 1821, died 1853. Susan(2) married Reverend Charles Porterfield Krauth – CPK(2) – and had two surviving children including Harriett Reynolds Krauth – Harriett(1) – born 1845, died 1925. At age 35 Harriett(1) became the second wife of Reverend Adolph Spaeth – Adolph(1) – born 1839, died 1910. Among their children was our grandfather, Reynold Albrecht Spaeth., born 1886, died 1925.

Hokay, back to John(5). He was probably born in Pennsylvania, although some sources say Dublin, Ireland. His father, FJR(6), was probably born in Pennsylvania as well. When you look up FJR(6), about half the sources say he was born in Chester, PA and the other half say Chichester, Sussex, England. (Some versions say FJR(6) went from England to Ireland, had his kids, then went to America.) So where was his father WilliamT(7) born? Most sources agree that he was born in England; variously he came to America at age 3, as an adult, or not at all. WilliamT(7) died in England, but reportedly he was a trader on a business trip.

John(5) first appears in written records around 1744, when he married Elizabeth McKee. (No marriage certificate discovered yet.) Four of his children were born in Swatara, PA (east of Harrisburg; Lancaster County before 1785, Dauphin County after 1785). The children's names and dates are found in the Baptismal Records of Rev. John Casper Stoeber, a traveling preacher (whose notes were put online by a descendant). One, Bridgette, was born in 1742 (hmmmm...). The other three are Elizabeth Reynolds (1744), John Reynolds (Jr.) (1746) and Joseph(4) (1747).

(Some family histories list these children as being born in Washington County, Maryland. It appears some later Reynolds children were born there.)

Some time while these children were still small, John(5) moved the family to Maryland. In 1761 he bought a parcel of land from James Smith – JamesS(5) – and began building a farmstead. The house is on a little knoll, to catch the summer breezes and the winter sunshine. It is still standing – right in the middle of the Civil War battlefield at Antietam. It's referred to as the Roulette house. One story is that John(5), a trader like his father and grandfather, brought a beautiful tall case clock to the house, but the ceiling was too low. He had to cut an alcove in the parlor ceiling so the clock would fit.

John(5)'s daughter Elizabeth married Thomas Smith in 1763 and eventually had ten children. His son John Jr. married Margaret Smith in 1764, bought his own chunk of land from Joseph Smith (appears to be James(5)'s brother) in 1767, and eventually had seven children. Joseph(4) married Sarah Smith in 1774 and eventually had eleven children. And yes, all the Smiths were brother and sisters, three of six children of JamesS(5) and Mary Graham.

Comes the Revolution. John Jr. became a captain in the 7th Maryland, but resigned his commission in 1777. Thomas Smith became a Major in the 4th Maryland. Joseph(4) probably joined the army too, but I haven't found any records. In 1777 an order came out from the Committee of Observation for Elizabeth Town (the original name of Hagerstown):

“Ordered that George Moore, Richard Carter and John Reynolds Sr. appraise the several waggons, horses, Waggon Cloths and Blanket that can be produced for the use of Coll. Jos. Smith's Batt. and make return to this Committee.”

The family story is that John(5) responded to the call. But he quit after a week. Consider that he was 63 at the time.

In 1777, the Oath of Fidelity was instituted by the laws of Maryland. Every free male over 18 had to swear allegiance to the revolutionary government and renounce the King of England. If you didn't, you paid triple taxes, couldn't teach or hold office or vote or appear in court... and other penalties. Magistrates went around administering the Oath and making lists of names. James Smith and Thomas Smith appear on a 1778 list; John Reynolds Sr. (John(5)) and “Joseph Rennolds” (probably Joseph(4)) appear on a 1779 list.

Not in our direct line but interesting: In late 1778 John Jr. sold out his Maryland holdings. The next spring he packed up his wife and seven children and, together with other families, started down the river to settle in Kentucky. Their party of flatboats was ambushed by Indians in April 1779 and John Jr. was shot and killed. His wife Margaret and children were held hostage by Indians; it took Margaret eighteen months to get everyone back together. They returned to the Reynolds homestead in Maryland. In 1785 Margaret remarried. The whole story is told in Frontier Mother by O. Glenn Stahl, 1979.

Ditto: Elizabeth Reynolds Smith and Thomas Smith moved to Kentucky around 1794. Two of their ten children married brother ministers, Martin Hitt and Samuel Hitt. Some of the Hitts later moved to Urbana, Ohio. In 1815 Samuel Hitt performed the marriage of his niece Betsy Smith, one of Elizabeth's granddaughters, to Martin Reynolds, one of Joseph(4)'s sons.

The Maryland Tax Assessment rolls for 1783 list three Reynolds: John Reynolds (John(5)), Joseph Reynolds (Joseph(4)) and Margaret Reynolds. I presume this is the widow of John Reynolds. She may have inherited this property from her father James(5), who died in 1780.

John(5) made his will in March 1784 and died in April 1784. The will divides his homestead between his sons Joseph(4) and Francis. You can find the full text on the website for Reynolds Family Association. The goods included a slave named Ham. Joseph(4) continued to live in the farmhouse and made some improvements. In the 1790s Francis sold his portion to the Orndorffs, who in turn sold it to Jacob Mumma. The Mumma farm is also on the Antietam battlefield, though the house was burned to the ground.

In 1804 Joseph(4) sold the Reynolds farmhouse and land to a neighbor, Joseph Miller. Joseph(4) and Sarah moved to Urbana, Champaign County, Ohio, a town that was just being formed. His son John also moved there and was very active in the town's early history. Joseph(4) died in Urbana in 1808; Sarah died there in 1821.

You can learn about the Roulette farm (and William and Margaret Roulette) from any history of the battle of Antietam. One witness, a chaplain in the Connecticut army, says a Confederate shell tore through the parlor wall, continued upwards through the ceiling and came to rest in the attic. Wounded soldiers were laid out in the house, the barns and the surrounding grounds. Some Confederate soldiers took cover in the springhouse kitchen – and were captured when a quick-thinking Yankee slammed the door. Some beehives on the front lawn were knocked over – propelling some Philadelphia soldiers a bit quicker toward the Confederate lines at the Sunken Road.

HOUSEKEEPING

Don't forget to send in your changes of address or email. Also, please let your next of kin know that in the unfortunate event of your passing to please let us know.

REYNOLDS IN THE CIVIL WAR

As many of you know, I'm a member of the Sons of Confederate Veterans and in doing research I have found many Reynolds' that fought on both sides or the war. If you have any information on any Reynolds who was a soldier during this time, please contact me.

David Richard Reynolds, the seventh child and fourth son of Henry and Mary (Brown) Reynolds was born on October 17, 1838 in what is now known as Flat Creek, Bedford County, Tennessee. Shortly after David's birth he removed with his family to Sand Mountain in Jackson County, Alabama, where he grew to manhood.

We know that David Richard was educated in public school and by September 10, 1860 He was living with a C.N. Garrett and his wife M.A. Garrett in Titus County, Texas where he listed his age as 22 and his occupation as a teacher.

On October 5th 1861, shortly after the war of Northern Aggression broke out, D.R. Reynolds joined the Confederate Army at Daingerfield, then Titus County, Texas. He enlisted as a Private in Company "D", 9th Texas Infantry, Maxey's Regiment. According to letters and his journal we know that they marched from Daingerfield to Camp Rusk, in Lamar County, Texas where they were organized and trained.

Shortly after the organization, measles and pneumonia broke out in the regiment. Due to the sickness and the poor quality of the water at Camp Rusk, Lamar County, Colonel Maxey had to move the 9th Texas to Camp Benjamin, in Fannin County, about 26 miles distant. On January 1, 1862, the regiment took up the line of march to Memphis.

D. R.'s first battle of the war took place on Apr 6th and 7th, 1862, when the 9th Infantry was engaged in the Battle of Shiloh, TN. It was on the 10th of July 1862 that the 9th Texas Infantry found themselves without a 2nd Lieutenant, and David Richard was promoted from Private to 2nd Lieutenant by the "vote" of the men in his unit. During the three years of the war, David Richard found himself moving all over the south, you can see the complete timeline of the 9th Texas Infantry here! He along with other members of the 9th Texas Infantry fought in many small scrimmages as well as the Battles of Perryville, KY, Murfreesboro, TN, Jackson, MS, Chickamauga, GA, Atlanta, GA, Allatoona, GA, Nashville, TN, and Spanish Fort, AL.

David Richard Reynolds along with what remained of the 9th Texas Infantry, surrendered with the rest of Ector's Brigade at Meridian, Mississippi on May 4, and was paroled on May 11, 1865, under the command of Major James McReynolds. There were just 8 officers and 79 men-a small fraction of the 1,018 men who had served with the 9th at one time or another. I'm not sure of the date of promotion but his parole papers have him listed as a First Lieutenant. After the war David Richard returned to Cookville, Titus County, Texas, where he set upon starting a farm and family. David's first marriage was to Judith Elizabeth "Babe" Holder the daughter of John Holder. They were married on June 8, 1865 in Titus County, Texas. There were four children born to this marriage. Mary Ellen, born in October 1866 in Cookville, Titus County, Texas, who went on to marry her cousin James David Dukes; Henry Presley Reynolds born on September 20, 1869; John Arthur Reynolds who was born in either 1868 or 1869 and is buried in Oklahoma. I believe that John went on to become a Doctor; and Nancy Lundy Bell who was born in 1874. Judith Elizabeth "Babe" Holder was born on April 10, 1845 and died on February 4, 1879. She is buried in the Concord Cemetery in Morris County, Texas, next to David Richard.

David Richard next married Frances Melvina "Callie" Coffman on May 13, 1879 in Cookville, Titus County, Texas. Callie was born in January of either 1861 or 1862; she died after January 27, 1917 in Pomona, California.

D.R. and Callie had a total of seven children: Josephine Anna, born May 20, 1880; Dosia E., born August 1882 and married P.E. Johnson on October 5, 1902 in Morris County, Texas; William Lafayett born April 24, 1884; Ada Jerusia born on March 28, 1886 and married a Barrier; Albert Obee born on July 19, 1889; Rosa Ethel born in July 1891 and married Francis Eugene Gallagher on May 7, 1911 in El Paso and their last child Roy Richard who was born on June 12, 1899. All of these children were born in Cookville, Titus County, Texas.

After the war was over, David Richard Reynolds served the town of Cookville, Texas as a teacher, a banker, a store owner, the Editor and Proprietor of the Cookville Banner Newspaper, and the Post Master of the Cookville, Post Office. I know that many of the land deeds and transfers in Titus County were witnessed by D.R., who was a Notary Public. There are also a number of land transactions that deals with "Reynolds Mortgage Company", so perhaps David Richard had his own bank for a time in Titus County.

D.R. Reynolds died on October 17, 1901 on his Sixty Third Birthday. He is buried next to his first wife Babe, in the Concord Cemetery in Morris County, Texas.

REYNOLDS SURNAME yDNA PROJECT

RFA President Joe Reynolds Welcomes Nancy Wallander as the new Vice-President - Project Administrator for the Reynolds Surname yDNA Project.

It gives me great pleasure to introduce our new Administrator for the Reynolds Surname yDNA Project, Nancy Beth Wallander. Nancy Beth Wallander was born in Wichita Falls Texas into a family with a long history in Texas. She grew up in Lawton Oklahoma graduating from Eisenhower Senior High School. After graduation from high school she trained to become a Licensed Vocational Nurse. Relocating to the Washington DC area she worked at several jobs in the medical and retail fields. She again packed up her family and relocated to Northern California where she again worked in healthcare. While in California she also returned to school receiving an associate of science in nursing (ADN), a bachelor of science in nursing (BSN) and ultimately a master of science in nursing (MSN) with a focus on cardiology and education. After graduation with her MSN she embarked on a series of travel/work adventures in the Middle East, Germany, Midway Atoll, New Mexico, Wisconsin, Alaska, Virginia, and Maryland. She now lives primarily in Alaska with her husband, James Cassell, but keeps a home in California as well.

Nancy has long been interested in finding out where her family comes from. She has a passion for learning about her family genealogy and now engages and shares this passion with other family members as well as a growing number of people she has met on line. She has traveled to a number of locations where her ancestors lived and worked, looking for family members in county courthouses, cemeteries, and local genealogy societies. She has traveled to several locations in the United States and Europe researching her family history. With the availability of DNA testing and access to genealogy data bases her searches have soared to a whole new level. She has been able to identify unknown branches of her family and has even been able to help reunite previously unknown family with their parents and siblings.

Always willing to share her knowledge and expertise, Nancy derives great joy in helping others connect with their family's past.

QUERIES

My late mother was a Reynolds, born in 1917 in Hertfordshire, UK. I've traced her relatives back to Springfield in Essex and back further to Cottingham in Northamptonshire, and have found some of the family who moved across to the USA, notably Chicago. Does anyone link to these family trees?

I am looking for descendants of Humphrey REYNOLDS (b abt. 1580, bur 1 Jul 1632 Cropwell Bishop, Nottinghamshire, England). Humphrey had 7 known children, 6 of whom lived to adulthood. They are Catherine (bap Southwell, Notts. 16 Feb 1606/07), Elizabeth (bap Southwell 15 Jan 1608/09), John (bap Southwell 15 Apr 1610), Anna (bap Cropwell Bishop, Notts. 10 Dec 1611), Mary (bap Cropwell Bishop 25 mar 1615), and Humphrey (bap Cropwell Bishop 25 Jan 1616/17). The 7th child, Sara, was bap and bur in 1620 in Cropwell Bishop. I believe some of these children immigrated to the Massachusetts Bay Colony and Piscataqua Plantation in the 1630's, and of those who came some returned to England. Their father, Humphrey, matriculated Cambridge University about 1597 and was later the clerk of Cropwell Bishop, having been ordained in York Diocese. My goal is to discover if anyone has traced ancestry to this family and may know who (or if) these children married. I believe Catherine may have married my Edward STARBUCK either in England or Dover, NH in the mid-1630's.

James Reynolds and Agnes Susan Fuller lived in Perryville, Perry County, Alabama in the 1850 & 1860's my 3rd Great Grandfather, their son James Asberry Reynolds married Sarah Lindsey lived in Alabama; Mississippi & Texas. Look at their 1870;1880 & 1900 census. Sarah died in Killeen Texas married Cora Leon Williamson in Georgetown, Williamson County, Texas. He was in the civil war under Col. Edward A. O'Neil from Alabama 26th Inf & Co. H. There is a roster with J A Reynolds named along with his pension that his 2nd wife filed in Texas. He applied for a medical license in Mississippi & a Baptist preacher. There are article that I found by using the paid version of newspapersarchives, by monthly; 6 months or yearly. His name is J A Reynolds from Georgetown, Williamson County, Texas along with other articles. They are in find a grave, James & Sarah had James Monroe reynolds & married Mattie Eugenia Faubion lived in Austin, Travis County, Texas. They had Eugene Faubion Reynolds & married Lillian Harriett Robinson in San Antonio, Texas. They had my dad James Eugene Reynolds Sr. in Austin, Travis County, Texas Feb. 18, 1918 & married Lucille Catherine Mayjack in Houston, Harris County, Texas in Aug. 24, 1941. Check each of the censuses and the Reynolds family tree with the family crest on ancestry. Have done a DNA test from ancestry. janicemreynolds49@aol.com I am also on Facebook & tweeter. Need forms to send to you about each one. Please send them to me I only go to library to use computers. Thank-you and have a good day.

My g-g-g-grandfather was Lancelot "Lot" Whitlock. The 1850 census says that he was born in Georgia, but I only find him in Union County South Carolina where he was during the war of 1812. I had a DNA test done by a male direct descendent and most of the matches are to the Reynolds/Runnells family. He named his first son Dudley Runnells Whitlock and I am wondering if Lot may have been a Reynolds who was adopted into the Whitlock family. This has been my brick wall for almost 30 years and any help would be appreciated.

I am able to trace my father's line (Reynolds) back to a Nathaniel Reynolds born circa 1805, somewhere in Virginia. I wonder if he was a descendant of the Captain Nathaniel Reynolds listed on your site? Cpt. Reynolds came to America with his father, Robert, in about 1630. Any help would be much appreciated.
