ABOUT THE REYNOLDS FAMILY ASSOCIATION (RFA) ITS ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS

You have read in the two previous issues about the founding of RFA and some of the people who nurtured it. During its darkest hours it never died and in 1977 a major effort was made to revive RFA. As a first step it was incorporated in the State of Delaware. The reasons behind this action were many, but most were based on financial need: to reactivate its small bank account in New York, to avoid paying income taxes on the small amount of earned interest. In a few words, RFA could not be tax exempt unless it was incorporated; it could not be incorporated unless it stated that it was either "profit" or "nonprofit." The category RFA fell into doesn't need to be stated!

Thus was born the Reynolds Family Association, a non-stock, non-profit corporation operating under the then Internal Revenue Service (IRS) regulations as a "(c)(3)" corporation, i.e., a charitable and/or educational institution. (RFA does not have to use the term 'Inc' after its name; under both corporate and tax laws the term 'Association' means 'incorporated.') In the early 1980's the IRS determination that one-name family/genealogical groups were neither charitable nor educational to the general public was upheld in court. Consequently, such groups as RFA were redesignated by IRS as "(c)(7)" tax exempt organizations, i.e., social clubs. Contributions to RFA could no longer be deducted from the contributor's income tax as a charitable donation and members' dues were to be used to provide something to the members "sharing the common bond," i.e., interest in the Reynolds family.

It takes a few years to get a commercial stock corporation underway and, generally, they are funded at the beginning with a large input of operating capital and by the sale of stock. There is usually a group of people involved who live at worst in the same state. RFA as a non-stock corporation enjoyed none of those advantages. There was no large infusion of capital and its Board of Directors was widely scattered.

RFA, as a duly chartered corporation, maintains its organization and operations based on its Certificate of Incorporation (sometimes referred to as 'Charter' or 'Constitution') and the requirements of IRS Code (c)(7). Its governing body is its Executive Committee which also serves as its Board of Directors. Its committees are chaired by a member of the Board of Directors as required by the General Corporation Law of Delaware.

The Directors of RFA are elected by the members attending the annual meeting/reunion to carry out the goals of RFA. The members, by vote, can remove a director who is not deemed to be effective in the performance of the duties of the position. Directors acting as Committee Chairmen may appoint people to assist in those duties. Such proposed appointments may be approved by the whole Board, but are not ratified by the membership. The appointees may be retained or replaced by a new Director replacing the incumbent who initially appointed the person. Certain positions require specific skills, such as legal and accounting expertise, and persons filling such positions are appointed by the majority vote of the Board of Directors.

The significant difference between RFA and commercial corporations is that RFA cannot pay a salary to people serving as its officers and must rely on volunteers.

The major item on the Board's agenda in the near term is to provide by-laws to members by mail before the reunion in Atlanta in October. In the longer term, the goal is to provide for nomination of candidates by mail and holding elections by mail in 1992.

THE MAYFLOWER CONNECTIONS OF THE ROBERT REYNOLDS OF BOSTON FAMILY

by Susan E. Clement

[MAYFLOWER PILGRIMS = BOLD UNDERLINED CAPITAL LETTERS]

When Robert and Mary Reynolds arrived in the Massachusetts Bay Colony with their five children about 1630-32, the Plymouth Colony of the Pilgrims was already well established. Within two years of the establishment of the colony centered in Boston, its population was estimated by Governor John Winthrop at around 4,000. It is only natural, therefore, that many of these colonists and their children would look for and move into other areas nearby that perhaps were not so crowded. Just south of Boston, in the Plymouth colony, and in other new New England settlements land was more available, and families took advantage of the opportunity to build a homestead.

The family of Robert and Mary was no exception. Robert himself moved from Boston to Watertown, Mass., to Wethersfield, Conn., and then back to Boston. His daughters Ruth and Mary both lived with their families in Watertown. Nathaniel, his only son, married twice and lived in Boston until 1680 when he moved to Bristol (then Mass., now R.I.). He was one of the original founders of the town there.

It was with the children and grandchildren of Nathaniel that the intermarriages with Pilgrim families began. The oldest children of Nathaniel from his first marriage established their families in Boston including his son Nathaniel. The family of this second Nathaniel moved to Bridgewater, Mass. Nathaniel Sr.'s younger children from his second marriage stayed in the Bristol area and raised their families there. In both places, Nathaniel's children and grandchildren came into close contact and established relationships with descendants of the Mayflower pilgrims.

THE BRIDGEWATER FAMILY CONNECTION

Nathaniel Reynolds 3d (Nath'l, Nath'l, Robert) married Mary Snell in 1716 in Bridgewater. She was the daughter of Thomas and Martha (Harris) Snell. Nathaniel and Mary lived for only a short time in Boston before moving to Bridgewater. They had two sons, Nathaniel and Thomas. Nathaniel 3d died at age 26, less than three years after his marriage. Mary remarried to David Ames of Bridgewater, where the two Reynolds boys grew up. Some of the Mayflower families had originally founded the town and their families remained there.

TURNER FAMILY

Thomas Reynolds, the younger son of Nathaniel and Mary, married Elizabeth (Betty) Turner on November 3, 1784 in Bridgewater. Marion H. Reynolds stated that he believed she was the daughter of Amasa and Rebecca (Delano) Turner. The records of the Mayflower Society indicate, however, that she was the daughter of Japhet Turner. Elizabeth's ancestry is traced back to Edward Doty of the Mayflower:

Betty Turner and Thomas Reynolds, 3 Nov 1748 (Brdgwtr VR 2:320)

Japhet Turner and Elizabeth Morse, 17 Jan 1724/25 Middleboro, MA

Hannah Hatch and Japhet Turner, c. 1702 (Pembroke VR:211)

Mary Doty and Samuel Hatch, c. 1677 (Myflwr Desc. 5:111,3:91)

EDWARD DOTY and Faith Clark, 6 Jan 1634 Plymouth (MD, 13:83)

PERKINS FAMILY

Thomas's son, Joseph, married Jemima Perkins on Sept 17, 1772. Joseph and Jemima raised their family in Bridgewater, though later in life they moved to Auburn, Maine to live with their son Ichabod. Another of their sons, Simeon, married another Mary Snell on Jan 19, 1809 in Brockton, Mass. She was the g-g-granddaughter of Thomas and Martha (Harris) Snell. Both Jemima and Mary were Mayflower descendants.

Mary Snell's half-sister, Martha, daughter of Zebedee and his first wife, Mary Howard, married William Reynolds, the son of Philip and Hannah (Packard) Reynolds. Philip was the son of Nathaniel, the oldest son of Nathaniel and Mary (Snell), who married Hannah Hartwell and moved to the area of Sidney, Maine. William and Martha's descendants share the connection to John Alden and Priscilla Mullins through their Snell ancestry.

THE BRISTOL FAMILY CONNECTION

The Bristol branch of the Reynolds family (who frequently spelled the name Raynolds) was quite prominent and well-to-do, being one of the "old families" of the town. It is not unusual therefore that there were many intermarriages with other prominent and well-established families. Two of Nathaniel's grandchildren, Mary and Nathaniel, children of Peter Raynolds and his wife Mary Giles, married into Mayflower families.

ROGERS FAMILY

The Mayflower tradition was established early in the family of Nathaniel Sr.'s son, Joseph. Joseph married Phebe Leonard on Aug 26, 1718 in Norton, Mass. Phebe's ancestry is as follows:

Anna Tisdale and George Leonard, July 1695, Taunton, Mass.

John Rogers and Ann Churchman, 16 Apr 1639 Duxbury (MD

BRADFORD FAMILY

Joseph's grandson, also named Joseph, lived in Bristol and married Sarah Cox, the daughter of William Cox, in Bristol on 11 Dec 1771. Joseph and Sarah had several children, among whom were Sarah and Elizabeth. Sarah married Daniel Bradford Jr. on 29 Nov 1799 (Bristol VR 1:13). Elizabeth married Daniel's brother, Samuel, in 1806. Daniel and Samuel's parents were Daniel Bradford and Susannah Jarvis. Susannah was Daniel's second wife. He had first married Mary (Reynolds) Church, the widow of Constant Church, and daughter of Peter and Mary (Giles) Reynolds. The Bradford ancestry is:

Daniel Bradford and Susannah Jarvis, 25 Sep 1773

*Hannah Rogers

THOMAS ROGERS

Another connection with the Bradford family is found in the family of Nathaniel Sr.'s son, Benjamin whose grandson Benjamin, son of John and Dorothy Weld, married Elizabeth Bradford on April 22, 1784 in Duxbury. Elizabeth was the daughter of Job and Elizabeth (Parkman) Bradford who were married 26 Jan 1758 in Boston (Rec. Comm. 30:370). Job was the son of Gershom and Priscilla (Wiswall) Bradford and follows the same ancestry as his brother Daniel outlined above.

OTHER PLYMOUTH CONNECTIONS

Those familiar with New England genealogy will recognize other early colonial families connected with these Mayflower ancestries. Many other early Plymouth families, who arrived within the first few years of the Colony's settlement, are well represented. Of note is Col. Benjamin Church, "The Indian Fighter", who commanded the colonial troops in the war against King Philip.

There may be other Mayflower connections not mentioned here that will be found with some additional research. Acceptance into the Society of Mayflower Descendants on any of these lines is possible. However, the Society requires documentation and verified proof of each family connection, as should always be the standard for accepting anyone as an ancestor. References are given above as stated in the various sources used and should be verified before accepting them as truth.

66th ANNUAL REUNION
 12 OCTOBER 1991
 RAMADA CAPITOL PLAZA
 ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Now is the time to make your reservations for the big weekend in Atlanta!

RFA has reserved a block of rooms at special rates in the hotel where the reunion will be held. Single room rates are $55 and doubles are $65. While you must make your own reservations be sure to tell them you will be with the RFA reunion. While first night deposit per room plus tax or credit card guarantee is due to the hotel no later than 11 September 1991, make your reservations now. This is the Columbus Day holiday weekend and there are many events in Atlanta, which will cause a shortage of rooms (and probably an increase in rates).

In this issue there is an RFA registration form for the reunion to be sent to the editor no later than 5 September 1991. This early date is necessary in order to make final plans for the luncheon and meeting room with the hotel. The registration fee of $30 per person includes lunch on Saturday.

A package of informational material will be sent to each person who registers with RFA.

While the "formal" reunion takes place on one day - Saturday - some members will be arriving as early as Thursday. For those who do, we will plan a group dinner on Thursday night. I will be there early in the day on Thursday.

On Friday, 11 Oct, the RFA Archives will be available for research from 9-12 a.m. and 1:30-5 p.m. The informational package will give information about other resource facilities available on Friday. There will be a group dinner on Friday evening.

The reunion will be held on Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The morning will be devoted to visiting with each other, getting to know each other, and talking family history. There will be a formal luncheon with a speaker. From 2-5 p.m. there will be a business meeting. For those who stay over Saturday night there will be a group dinner.

There has been expression of interest in a trip on Friday to Andersonville. Please let me know if you are interested in this or some other excursion as a group.

ACT NOW! DON'T MISS A GREAT EVENT!
