1850 Census Project Status By Bill Reynolds

RFA volunteers are now working on the 1850 Census Project in which it is planned to abstract all Reynolds names (all spellings) from the 1850 United States Federal census. (This is not an index, but the information from the schedules.) There were 37 states and territories at the time of the 1850 Census, a total of 1628 counties. As of June 24, 1999, 38 volunteers have signed up to abstract 25 states in their entirety (68%) and 12 more states partially (32%) totaling 909 counties (56%).

Volunteers are still needed for 44% of the counties of 1850. If you are willing to abstract even one county in one state, for details, please contact:

This is my family line from my grt-grt grandparents. The information came from the Reynolds Family card index that my grt grandfather built when he was the historian for the Reynolds Family Association in the early 1900s. Capt. S. About This Book

Steve Roth, a descendant of James and Deborah Reynolds, has been compiling this genealogy over many years, before and after the time he served as Registrar for the Reynolds Family Association. Steve has very generously donated the book to RFA.

James Reynolds was born in 1625, probably in England, and died in 1700 in North Kingstown, Rhode Island. Various theories as to the possible ancestry of James Reynolds are presented and discussed. James Reynolds was an early settler in New England, known to be living in Plymouth, Massachusetts, in 1643, and later obtaining land and establishing himself and his family in the Quiddnessett region (now North Kingstown) of Rhode Island prior to 1669.

Deborah died prior to October 1692, also in North Kingstown. James and Deborah had seven children (John, James, Joseph, Henry, Deborah, Francis, and Mercy), and this book traces the generations forward through these seven offspring. In some cases, information is presented on descendants who are more than 15 generations removed from James and Deborah, and almost every state became the residence of one or many of these descendants.

In addition to giving the usual vital genealogical information such as birth, marriage, and death dates and locations, biographical information is included where possible. More than 10,000 descendants of James and Deborah Reynolds are included in this book.

The 486-page index is alphabetized by surname (both married and maiden surnames are given for women), birth and death years are given when known for each entry, and each entry is referenced to its location in the manuscript.
